

INTERNATIONAL NUTRITION
MICROFEEDS FOR ALL SPECIES

Animal Nutritionist

Description:

International Nutrition is a leading manufacturer of animal health products. We've manufactured and marketed high Quality nutritional products since 1971.

We are seeking for a highly motivated candidate for the position of Animal Nutritionist to provide nutritional services and training to our sales team and customers globally. Additional responsibilities are included such as providing technical support to our registration department, input into the corporate strategy, and working with our sales team and our customers to develop new products. Candidate should be able to direct research programs and coordinate field trials.

The successful individual will have a thorough understanding of the animal industry and experience in animal nutritional services and research programs.

Requirements:

- Doctoral degree (Ph.D) or equivalent and 3 – 4 years related experience and/or training.
- Practical, in-field experience with major swine, poultry and/or aqua species and markets,
- Experience providing technical services to internal and external customers.
- Experience conducting swine, poultry and/or aqua research and field trials.
- Advanced computer skills including use of spreadsheets, word and presentation software
- Multiple language skills: must be fluent in English. Mandarin, Spanish and other languages are a plus.

International Nutrition provides an excellent benefits package and career growth opportunities.

P. 8.30.2017